We have compiled a list of summer activities for children for the ten-county Southern Utah area we serve. The following is the list from your county. Other counties are available off the websites. This is not a comprehensive list, but we have tried our best to find resources and accurate information considering this years special circumstances. Please use your best discretion and information about whether to have your kids participate in activities this summer. There is updated information on COVID-19 on coronavirus.utah.gov.

We cannot guarantee quality or recommend programs. We encourage parents to carefully check out any program before enrolling their child.
